COLORING BOOK

This book belongs to:

Four reasons Rutgers is so special are the campuses that make it so exceptional!

Our friend Harry will give us the campus tour, and show us what CURIOSITY, KNOWLEDGE, AND PURPOSE are for.

College Avenue is the first stop for Harry.
And in the distance, he sees Alexander Library!

Harry reaches for a book he just needs.
We gain so much KNOWLEDGE the more we read.

Busch Campus is the next stop on our adventure.
Here, Harry loves to hang out at Werblin Recreation Center!

He is teaching students how to swim today.
Harry feels so much PURPOSE helping others in any way!

Livingston Campus is Harry's next stop.
It's home to Rutgers Cinema and many shops!

Harry has such CURIOSITY for nature.
He watches a documentary to learn about glaciers.

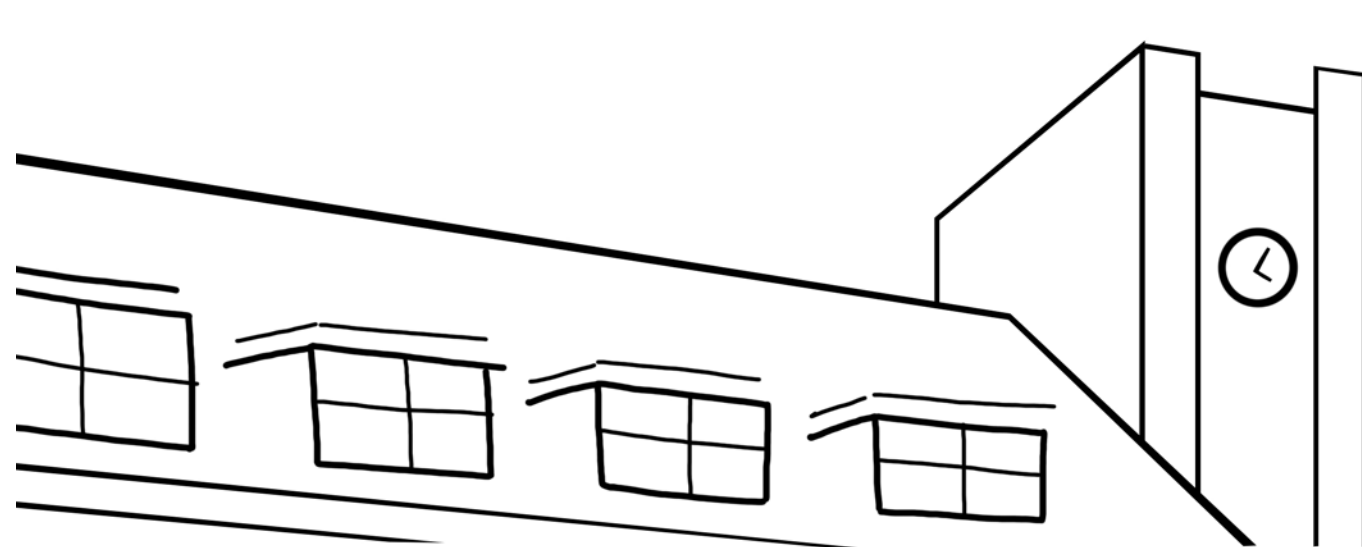

Last is Cook-Douglass Campus with all its rustic charm.
Here we can find animals and yummy food on the farm.

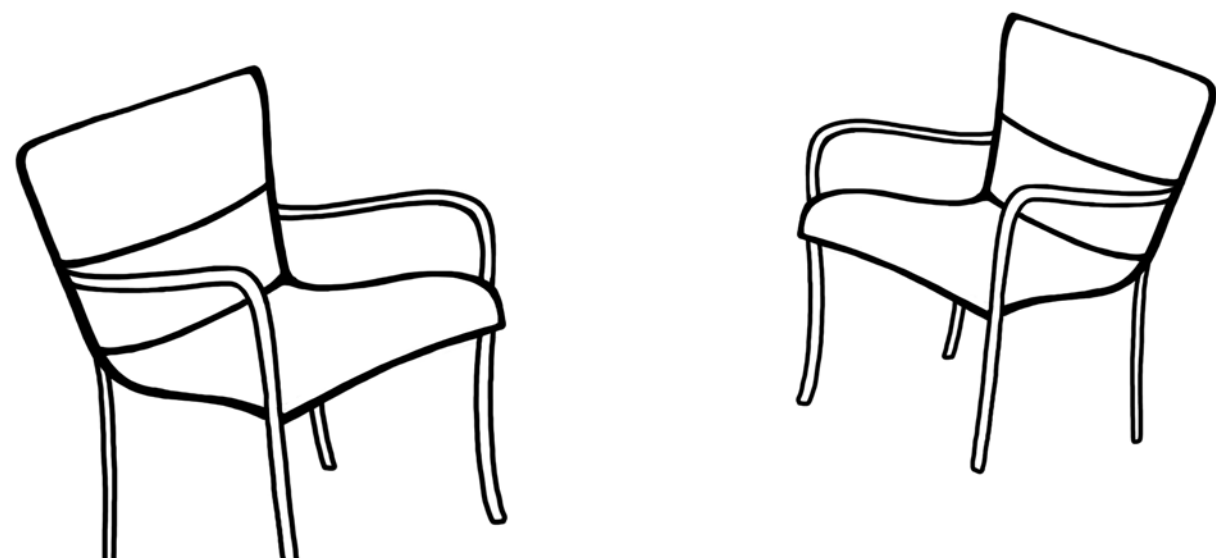

Why don't we harvest vegetables in every color!
We can donate the food and find PURPOSE helping others.

Harry had such a wonderful time giving you the Rutgers tour!
But there's still one place left to explore...

Welcome to the Honors College! A magical place where CURIOSITY, KNOWLEDGE, AND PURPOSE are fully embraced!

We appreciate their creativity and care in showing life at the Honors College and Rutgers at large.

Meet the Real Harry!

Harry was a real student and part of the very first class to live at the Honors College in 2015. He was a leader who helped other students feel more comfortable in their new home at Rutgers. He was also the first student to work for the Honors College, making videos that captured life here to show other students. He lived and shared our motto —Curiosity. Knowledge. Purpose.— with those around him. And he was the only student to have lived at the Honors College for all four of his years in college. Students looked up to Harry and affectionately called him “Old Man Honors College.”

Harry graduated from Rutgers in 2019 and now works as an Admissions Officer for the University, helping other students learn about Rutgers! He is also a student again at the Rutgers Business School, working to get his master's degree.
